Attendance & Punctuality

Establishing good habits of attendance and punctuality helps to ensure your child makes the best start at school.

We ask that parent/carers:

- promote the importance of good attendance and punctuality
- ensure their child arrives at school on time each day
- notify the school each day their child is unable to attend and provide a reason
- arrange medical appointments, where possible, for out of school hours and provide evidence for all medical appointments
- do not take their children on holiday in term time

Attendance & Punctuality

Establishing good habits of attendance and punctuality helps to ensure your child makes the best start at school.

Every minute counts

If you arrive late to school every day, learning begins to suffer. This chart shows how being late to school everyday over a year adds up to lost learning time.

Ahead of starting Pre-School ...

What skills should your child practise to prepare them for Pre- School?

- Using the toilet independently and washing hands
- Putting on/taking off their jumper/cardigan
- Fastening their shoes
- Using a knife and fork for lunch
- Sharing and turn taking with family or siblings

Ahead of starting Pre-School ...

What you can do over Summer to get them ready!

- Experiences inside and outside of the home e.g. cooking with the family, your local park, helping with the weekly shop or visiting family and friends
- Listening to stories
- Singing nursery rhymes and familiar songs
- Practice their fine motor skills e.g. threading, baking or playing with playdough

The importance of play has been underlined through a great deal of research which has shown play's positive contribution to children's physical and mental health; imagination and creativity; self-confidence and sense of self-worth; social skills and their ability to better understand and engage with the world around them.

As parents, when we provide access to different play opportunities, we are actively supporting this growth and development.

Play Matters!

Every child will play in different ways and this changes throughout their childhood.

Children play anywhere and everywhere and playing with your child provides a great opportunity to strengthen your bond. Think about what your child enjoys, give them choice and freedom and of course, join in!

Children also gain enormous benefit from unstructured play – play opportunities which aren't planned or expected. By engaging in simple, unstructured play activities such as singing rhymes and telling stories, you are helping to expand language skills, emotional regulation, and social skills. Such unstructured play also helps to nurture children's imaginations, building their sense of adventure and helping to develop their creativity.

Two- to four-year-olds

Toddlers/children will likely play with a wide variety of resources and toys and they often love pretend play and being creative. Playful activities could include:

- Dress up – fill an old suitcase with old grown-up clothes such as hats, bags, beads, sunglasses, rucksacks, shoes.
- Using household resources – pots and pans, old mobile phones, pegs, bowls, torches, kitchen utensils.
- Creative materials – paints, crayons, chalks, scissors, magazines.
- Books, games and puzzles – reading stories/ looking at books, snap, singing games, clapping games, matching games.
- Sing songs and rhymes – anytime and anywhere, even better if there are actions to join in with!

You can even encourage play within everyday routines – play whilst tidying up, washing the dishes, doing the laundry or whilst doing the shopping!

Children's Right to Play!

Every child has the right to play. This is recognised throughout the world in the United Nation's Convention on the Rights of the Child (UNCRC). So as parents and carers, it's important to make sure that your child has the space, time and company of others to play. Playing is your child's right wherever they are – at home, in childcare and at school.

TALK TO ME

Look at me, listen to me, respond to me.

Talk to me whilst out and about and at home!

Read, sing and Play with me everyday

Talk to me in your first language and the one you know best. This is good for my communication development and won't cause any delays.

3-4 years

I can

Help me by

I can use four- five words to make a sentence.
"I want to play with cars"

You can help me by repeating what I say and adding a word.
"I want to play with the big cars"

I can talk about things that have happened in the past and will happen in the future.

Help me learn more by commenting on what we did yesterday or we might do tomorrow.
"We went to the park yesterday". "We are"

I might still use words such as "I runned in the park"

If I make mistake., It's ok. I am just learning! Help me by repeating the sentence back with the correct words.
"Yes you ran in the park".

I can remember and enjoy telling longer stories or singing songs.

You could take photographs of things we have seen today and Make up stories/ songs together about them.

4-5 years

I can

Help me by

I can use between 1,500 and 2,500 words by the time I am 5!

Continue to talk to me about the world around us, read and sing to me.

I can use longer complex sentences. I will use words to join small sentences together using words like 'and' or 'because'.

When you read to me encourage me to talk about what might happen next and explain why.

I can use words to describe how I am feeling.
"I am sad because I hurt my finger".
"I am excited because I am going to the park".

Talk to me about my feelings, tell me that all of my feelings are ok. Help me to manage my feelings.
